Griesing Law Firm in Philadelphia Featured in ABA Commission on Women in the Profession Book

Philadelphia Pa. July 14, 2011. Griesing Law, LLC is pleased to announce that it was selected as a contributing author in the American Bar Association's Commission on Women in the Profession's publication The Road to Independence: 101 Women's Journeys to Starting Their Own Law Firms, which was published in July 2011.

Francine Friedman Griesing, Managing Member of the firm, said "We are honored to have been included in this publication by the ABA. As a woman lawyer, I understand the difficulties that many in our profession encounter. Many women still face the same challenges today that I faced when entering the profession over 30 years ago. I thought of no better way to share my successes with other women lawyers than through this great book. I would also like to thank Roberta Liebenberg for her tireless efforts in getting this book to come to light."

The American Bar Association's website described the book on their website as "a collection of 101 letters from women who have taken the courageous and difficult step of creating a law firm of their own, either as a solo or with others... the reader will find business-savvy tidbits and practical tips for starting and growing a successful law practice in the words of the founders themselves. The letters compiled in this book reflect the voices of women who are happy with their practices, proud of their entrepreneurial spirit and business development skills, and eager to share their advice with others who may be emboldened to follow in their footsteps."

The book is currently available for purchase through the American Bar Association's website, www.ambar.org/RoadToIndependence.

Griesing Law represents public Fortune 500 corporations and closely held companies in complex business transactions, high stakes litigation and executive employment disputes. The firm also advises its clients on how to reduce risk and contain litigation costs. Our clients are predominately in the hospitality, technology, real estate, manufacturing, chemical and professional services industries. Prior to launching Griesing Law, LLC, the founding team at Griesing Law worked at top AmLaw 100 firms.
